I will give you thanks, O Lord, with all my heart, for you have heard the words of my mouth; in the presence of the angels I will sing your praise; I will worship at your holy temple.

I will give thanks to your name because of your kindness and truth. When I called, you answered me; You built your strength within me.

The Lord is exalted, yet the lowly he sees. The proud he knows from afar. Though I walk in distress, you preserve me; Against my enemies' anger, you raise your hand.

Your right hand saves me. The Lord will complete what he has done for me; Your kindness, O Lord, endures forever forsake not the work of your hands.

The Apostles' Creed

I believe in God, the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth, and in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary, suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried; he descended into hell; on the third day he rose again from the dead; he ascended into heaven, and is seated at the right hand of God the Father almighty; from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the holy catholic Church, the communion of saints, the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and life everlasting.

Amen.

Blessed Are the Poor (Rejoice, Be Glad)

Adam M. L. Tice & Kate Williams

1. Blessed are the poor – the people who live in God’s holy reign.
Blessed are the sad, for comfort is yours through sorrow and pain.
Blessed are the meek for you will inherit what long was denied.
Hungry, thirsty ones, your longing for justice will be satisfied.
2. Blessed are the kind – the merciful ones shall mercy receive.
Blessed are the good your heart shall see God because you believe.
Blessed children, come: grow peace for a planet still choking with hate.
Persecuted ones, for you all the blessings of heaven await.
3. You are salt and light – let earth taste and see God’s glory revealed.
Let your goodness shine; the lost are restored, the broken are healed.
All will be fulfilled – the law and the prophets have shown us the way.
Heaven comes to earth; rejoice and be glad for creation’s new day.

Your Love Is Finer Than Life

Marty Haugen, Gather #58

O God, I seek you, my soul thirst for you,
your love is finer than life.

As a dry and weary desert land,
so my soul is thirsting for me God,
and my flesh is faint for the God I seek,
for your love is more than life.

I think of you when at night I rest,
I reflect upon your steadfast love,
I will cling to you, O Lord my God,
in the shadow of your wings I sing.

I will bless your name all the days I live,
I will raise my hands and call on you,
my joyful lips shall sing your praise,
you alone have filled my hungry soul.

Your Grace Is Enough

Matt Maher

Great is Your faithfulness, O God;
You wrestle with the sinner’s restless heart.
You lead us by still waters into mercy,
And nothing can keep us apart.

So remember your people...

Great is your love and justice, God of Jacob.
You use the weak to lead the strong.
You lead us in the song of Your salvation.
And all Your people sing along.

So remember your people...

So re-mem-ber your peo-ple, re-mem-ber your chil-dren,
 re - mem - ber your prom - ise, O God.
 Refrain
 Your grace is e-nough, your grace is e-nough, your grace is e-nough for me.

“If not friendship, then persistence?”

Dear Friends,

Part of the formation that music and liturgical ministers undergo teaches us to look for the bridge that connects the First Reading at mass to the Gospel. At first glance, this week’s connection eluded me (and, if I’m honest, at several glances beyond the first). But with the help of others wiser than I, a bridge became visible and I’d like to share it with you.

In the First Reading from Genesis, we have Abraham pleading with God to spare Sodom and Gomorrah from destruction. In a way that reminds me a bit of the tireless negotiating my seven-year-old granddaughter subjects me to, Abraham asks God if he will spare the city if there are fifty righteous people there. But he doesn’t stop there. With occasional respectful phrases (“See how I am presuming to speak to my Lord though I am but dust and ashes!”), Abraham secures the commitment from God that even if there are only forty, only thirty, only twenty, and finally, only ten innocent people there, the city shall be spared.

The Gospel has Jesus’ disciples asking the Lord to teach them to pray. Presumably they can see how prayer grounds every moment of Jesus’ life, and they want to follow their master’s example. In response, Jesus teaches them the Lord’s Prayer, the Our Father that we say every Sunday at mass. But he doesn’t stop there. As a good Rabbi, he tells them stories of friends and neighbors, late night disturbance and request, and fathers who care well for their sons. He says, “I tell you, even if he does not get up to give the visitor the loaves because of their friendship, he will get up ... because of his persistence.”

As Christians we are used to the idea that we can come to Jesus with any request, that God encourages and desires intimacy with us like a loving father who dotes on his children. But in Abraham’s time, there was not yet such a conception. The God Abraham bargained with was holy, wholly other, all powerful, mysterious, remote and prone to anger. Yet he was persistent, and God was merciful, ultimately granting Abraham’s request to spare Sodom.

Here is the bridge: Jesus wants us to be persistent in prayer, just as Abraham was. The answer we get may be “yes” or it may be “no.” It may be silence. But we know that God is loving, merciful, just, and powerful, and that he wants us to ask boldly for what we need.

One last thought: It didn’t hurt that what Abraham was asking for was in accord with God’s merciful nature. It doesn’t hurt either if we try to discern what God might want us to ask for when we aren’t sure. So in addition to persistent requests, we can also ask God to reveal to us what God wants. And we can be patient. On the other hand, the neighbor in the middle of the night demanding bread was anything but!

Safeguard the Children

Teach your children what to do when they are lost

Preparing your children for a situation where they might get lost or separated from you can help resolve a scary situation more quickly. Talk to your children about what to do if they get lost in a crowd. First, tell them to stay where they are. Then, teach them how to locate another safe adult — a park or store employee, someone in uniform, another mom with children — and how to ask for help. A great tip for parents is to start immediately shouting a name, age, and description of the missing child, so others around you are searching too. For more tips, read “What your child should know about being lost” at busytoddler.com/kids-get-lost

Giving

National Needs Combined Collection

The U.S. Bishops encourage us to view the national collections in the light of stewardship and sharing. Jesus reminds us that the two greatest commandments are to love God with our whole heart, mind, and soul; and to love our neighbor as ourselves. This collection allows us to help our neighbors in the light of the Gospel. In doing so, we act as faithful stewards of God’s gifts. Envelopes are in the church lobby.

Stewardship Means Sharing

Give God the first serving, the first portion of our gifts. Giving is not based on the church’s need for money, but on our need to give back to God as a way to say ‘thank you.’
