Care & Prepare

A Series on End of Life Issues

Illness and death are difficult subjects to discuss. Understanding the process and options can help. Professionals in the field of health care and the church will share their knowledge of what to expect when a person nears the natural end of life, how to provide compassionate care, and what steps need to be taken in preparation for and upon death.

Ideal for your personal planning or helping a loved one. Each session is independent.

Monday, January 22 Advance Health Care Directives and POLST

GATHERING

Come and Follow Me

Francis Patrick O'Brien

If you choose to be my dis - ci - ples,
If you plan to fol - low where I lead,
Take up your cross and de-ny your ver - y selves. Then
Last time only come and fol - low me. Come and fol - low me.

1. God has anointed me that I may hear
The cries of all who are oppressed.
I know their doubt and fear. I know their pain.
Who will release them, give them rest?

2. My life is emptied out for those made low.
I bear their burden and their strife.
I win them victory upon a tree.
Who will give comfort, bring them life?

The Call of Discipleship is for All of Us

Dear Friends,

Today's Gospel and Old Testament readings have to do with a call that Jonah experienced and that Simon, Andrew, James and John all heard from Jesus and to which they responded. It's a call to discipleship and it's one that is meant for all of us.

Many of us heard the story of Jonah in the belly of the fish when we were young. I find it interesting that the church chose to skip that part of the story for today's reading which begins:

The word of the LORD came to Jonah, saying: "Set out for the great city of Nineveh, and announce to it the message that I will tell you." So Jonah made ready and went to Nineveh, according to the LORD'S bidding.

The reason Jonah was in the belly of the fish was because he first attempted to escape God's call by literally fleeing on a ship. When God sent a storm, the sailors threw Jonah overboard, and the fish swallowed him. Three days later, returned to dry land (I'll spare you the details), Jonah had a different attitude. I wonder if the point is that one way or another, it's best to respond to God's call, which is constant and unyielding, even in the face of our disobedience and imperfection.

The disciples that responded so readily to Jesus' call in today's Gospel were also far from perfect. Remember how they bickered over who would get to sit at Jesus' right hand in the coming kingdom? Remember how they fell asleep at Gethsemane and abandoned him at Calvary? Yet they are saints – examples for all of us, celebrated for centuries by the church to which we belong.

So if the call to discipleship is unyielding and uncompromising, and meant for all of us, to what exactly are we being called?

In the Gospel, Jesus calls the disciples to follow him, and they do. What does following Jesus mean? To what are we to follow him? To preaching (announcing the good news that the reign of God is at hand and within), teaching, healing, prayer, obedience, redemptive suffering, death and resurrection. I realize that many of those words may sound churchy or foreign to us living as we do in the complex world of 2018. But they are what we are called to, according to the gifts we've been given, by virtue of our baptism. And if we, in our weakness and imperfection will try to respond to the call, God will bring great blessings to our world and to us.

When Jonah preached repentance as he'd been commanded, "the people of Nineveh believed God ... When God saw by their actions how they turned from their evil way, he repented of the evil that he had threatened to do to them; he did not carry it out."

When Jesus' disciples obeyed the command to go and teach all nations, a church that none of them could imagine grew to span centuries and to touch all parts of our world. Ours is a church that has accomplished tremendous good, even though it is made up of imperfect, weak and disobedient people just like you and me, who have tried to respond to God's call, relying on God's grace.

Our Giving

Quarterly Focus: St. Mary Magdalen School

St. Mary Magdalen students enjoy a wide variety of extra-curricular activities including football, basketball, volleyball, softball, and track teams. After school clubs also include Art Club, Bricks 4 Kidz, Soccer Club, STEM Club, and Chess Club.

Our Youth and Young Adult Leaders Need Our Help!

For years, our retreat leaders have volunteered their time (about 40 hour of preparation) and talent (years of experience sharing faith) for our Confirmation teens. A little known fact, they also pay for room and board while many take time off work to help at the retreat. This year, we are hoping, praying and asking for help to offset the cost. Whatever is donated to our retreat fund will go into a pool to reduce, or even eliminate, the cost for our leaders to volunteer. The total cost for leaders this year is $3,000. Every dollar given will be humbly and gratefully received as 'thank you for your love and dedication to our young teens.' Envelopes are in the church narthex. Thank you church.

Set it and Forget it: Online Giving

Go to the parish website or contact Pam Kingsley pam@padreserra.org to learn how to sign up. One hundred and ninety-seven Padre Serra households use online giving successfully.
