There's a Wideness in God's Mercy

Ed Bolduc

VERSES

1. There's a wide - ness in God's mer - cy Like the wide - ness of the sea; There's a kind - ness in God's jus - tice, Which is more than lib - er - ty. There is plen - ti - ful re - demp - tion In the blood that has been shed; There is joy for all the mem - bers In the sor - rows of the Head. To Verse 2

REFRAIN

So be mer - ci - ful, just as our God is mer - ci - ful. Be mer - ci - ful, just as our God is mer - ci - ful to us. Let there be a wide - ness in our mer -
- cy. Let there be a kind - ness in our hearts.
Oh, may our lives be mer - ci - ful.

2. There is welcome for the sinner,
And a promised grace made good;
There is mercy with the Savior;
There is healing in Christ's blood.
There is grace enough for thousands
Of new worlds as great as this;
There is room for fresh creations
In that upper home of bliss.
3. For the love of God is broader
Than the measure of the mind;
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully kind.
If our love were but more simple,
We would know the living Word;
And our lives would be thanksgiving
In the kindness of the Lord.
4. There's a wideness in God's mercy
Like the wideness of the sea;
There's a kindness in God's justice,
Which is more than liberty.
There is plentiful redemption
In the blood that has been shed;
There is joy for all the members
In the sorrows of the Head.

Standing on Love

Dear friends on the journey,

Today's readings are challenging and present us some serious issues to consider. The first reading shows us that, upon creation, God gave us free will and what happens when we choose our will over God's. In the gospel, Jesus said that a kingdom which is divided cannot stand. He was also rocking the boat, challenging the societal norms, the status quo and creating uneasiness.

Division seems to be a word used a lot lately about the world, politics, economics, society, religion, communities, families and in our own selves. Divisions among and in these arenas are causing some shaky ground these days. The news is filled with stories of conflict. Perhaps they don't directly affect our daily living, but they certainly impact our internal balance and how we view our sisters and brothers in God's family. It's a challenge to view the world, not just through our fuzzy lens, but as God views his beloved creation.

We may have inherited this division, but God has never left us alone with it. Throughout salvation history, God has given us ample opportunities and solutions to combat and heal the divisions in and around us, the best and most complete of all being Jesus, our redeemer, brother, healer, teacher, friend, and guide. In recent weeks, we've celebrated Jesus' death, resurrection, and ascension, but he did not leave us alone there. He gave us the Holy Spirit, the powerful working of the Trinity and Jesus' ongoing presence in the Eucharist. Other God-given "resources" to help us to discern God's will in our own personal lives and how we view the world around us include prayer, scripture, tradition, church teaching, and the saints.

I know it's super cliché but I honestly believe in the help of one simple question: What would Jesus do? Honestly though, this question has assisted me many times, especially when I couldn't seem to make sense of a situation. What does God want me to do? What would Jesus do?

What would Jesus do if people from other lands came to his neighborhood? What would Jesus do if he was a baker asked to make a cake? What would Jesus do about a billion hungry people? What would Jesus do for the homeless person? What would Jesus do for the newly released prisoner? What would Jesus do for abused children, women and elderly? What would Jesus do about the bully in the classroom? What would Jesus do for the lonely, isolated teen? What would Jesus do about the annoying neighbor? What would Jesus do for a loved one who doesn't believe or go to church? What would Jesus do with a disagreeable family member? What would Jesus do for you? What would Jesus do for me?

Jesus would love. That's it.

Maybe the unsteady ground is good for it causes us to think and question the status quo and external influences. Only when we follow God's will and stand on gospel values will we experience stability.

Three:Sixteen at home ~ In today's gospel, Jesus explains that those who choose to follow him become part of a new kind of family. As Christians, we are called to show love for God and one another in the same way we show love to our family. We do not choose the family we are born into; we do choose to be part of Jesus' family. What are some ways you show your love to God's family?

Becoming Catholic ~ RCIA

Invite Your Not-Yet-Catholics to the Parish Picnic!

How many of your family and friends are wonderful people who are not yet Catholic? Often all it takes for them to consider the possibility of becoming Catholic is a little prompt from us. Begin by sharing a story of your own. Ask them about their beliefs. Invite them to the parish picnic on June 16, where they can experience our welcoming community for themselves. Our Giving

Retirement Fund Archdiocesan Priests ~ June 10

Have you ever wondered what happens to our priests after they retire from teaching, preaching and serving? Who takes care of them? Like us, they desire rest, need care and medical treatment as they grow older. Unlike us, their modest salaries were not meant to provide for them in retirement. Our gifts to this fund are a meaningful investment and true blessing for the care and comfort of our retired spiritual fathers. Envelopes in the church lobby.

Safeguard the Children

Safety vs. Manners

We teach children to say "please" and "thank you," to play nicely, and to respect adults. It is also key to stress the importance of safety. Teach children to say "NO" if someone is asking them to do something that is uncomfortable, and to set boundaries by saying things like "Don't touch me there," or "I don't like that."
