There's a Wideness in God's Mercy

Ed Bolduc

VERSES

1. There's a wide - ness in God's mer - cy Like the wide - ness of the sea; There's a kind - ness in God's jus - tice, Which is more than lib - er - ty. There is plen - ti - ful re - demp - tion In the blood that has been shed; There is joy for all the mem - bers In the sor - rows of the Head. To Verse 2

2. There is welcome for the sinner,
And a promised grace made good;
There is mercy with the Savior;
There is healing in Christ's blood.
There is grace enough for thousands
Of new worlds as great as this;
There is room for fresh creations
In that upper home of bliss.
3. For the love of God is broader
Than the measure of the mind;
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully kind.
If our love were but more simple,
We would know the living Word;
And our lives would be thanksgiving
In the kindness of the Lord.

4. There's a wideness in God's mercy
Like the wideness of the sea;
There's a kindness in God's justice,
Which is more than liberty.
There is plentiful redemption
In the blood that has been shed;
There is joy for all the members
In the sorrows of the Head.

REFRAIN

So be mer - ci - ful, just as our God is mer - ci - ful. Be mer - ci - ful, just as our God is mer - ci - ful to us. Let there be a wide - ness in our mer -
- cy. Let there be a kind - ness in our hearts.
Oh, may our lives be mer - ci - ful.

The Humble Path to Glory

Dear Friends,

Today's reading from Mark's gospel is one of my favorites, but with some caveats. I love what Jesus teaches his apostles after his conversation with James and John (Zebedee's sons):

Rather, whoever wishes to be great among you will be your servant;
whoever wishes to be first among you will be the slave of all.
For the Son of Man did not come to be served but to serve and to give his life as a ransom for many.

It reminds me of a story one of our well-loved parishioners tells about when he and his wife first arrived at Padre Serra. She asked him how they would ever get to know people and be part of this new community into which they had moved. His answer was something like this: "That's easy. Whatever activity or event we go to, we just stay after and help clean up." They did that, and, sure enough, their experience was exactly as he'd predicted. They got to know more and more people, good people, who came to love and value them and they felt themselves more and more deeply drawn into the life of the parish and its people.

It is taking me a little longer to learn this lesson but I can say that in some cases where I'd rather not, but it seemed the only right thing to do, when I pitched in and helped with post-party or post-meeting cleanup, it has proved to be a way of connecting to other people and I walk away with a sense of peace.

I have a long way to go. This willingness to be of service comes from a radical sense of the value of the person we try to help, indeed, from an awareness of their having been made in God's image and likeness. Saints see that value readily, even in the most wretched (St. Teresa of Calcutta comes to mind). For me, I have to make an effort of will sometimes, and ask for God's help to see it in the people I encounter at home, or at work, or in the news.

Returning to the conversation between Jesus, James and John before the passage above. It seems that the two apostles are looking for a shortcut to greatness. "Grant that in your glory we may sit one at your right and the other at your left." When Jesus says to them "You do not know what you are asking. Can you drink the cup that I drink or be baptized with the baptism with which I am baptized?" their glib response "we can" leaves me shaking my head at their apparent cluelessness. Of course James and John did go on to become great saints, so maybe there is hope for me when I am dense and self-absorbed, but not without cost:

The cup that I drink, you will drink, and with the baptism with which I am baptized, you will be baptized

If I read this correctly, there will be suffering for me, even were I to follow Jesus perfectly (which of course I can't). It's the second reading from the letter to the Hebrews that gives me (us) hope, in spite of my desire for glory and my reluctance sometimes to roll up my sleeves and serve. The author, referring to Jesus, says:

For we do not have a high priest who is unable to sympathize with our weaknesses, but one who has similarly been tested in every way, yet without sin. So let us confidently approach the throne of grace to receive mercy and to find grace for timely help.

Thanks be to God. Let's pray for one another.

Dominic MacAller

Faith Sharing

Reflection questions for every gathering around any table.

Mark 10:35-45 ~ We Are Called to Serve as Jesus Served

James and John ask for positions of honor in the kingdom. Jesus tells them that the only position they should seek is the position he has assumed, that of a servant. Jesus changes the way we think of leadership to be someone who serves others. How am I a leader in school, my family, the parish and/or my community? Are there times in my own life when I've had the chance to be last instead of first? How did that feel?

Becoming Catholic ~ RCIA

Do you know someone who is wondering if the Catholic Church is the place for them? It could be your neighbor, your co-worker, or someone in your family. At Padre Serra, we have a group which meets on Tuesday evenings, 7:00 - 8:30pm in the San Miguel room, year-round, to explore what it means to be a disciple of Jesus in the Catholic tradition. The atmosphere is informal, open and free of any pressure. Those attending are invited to ask any questions they may have followed by a discussion on various topics regarding our faith. If you know someone who might be interested, invite them to accompany you to one of the meetings. We serve great refreshments, too!
