GATHERINGYour Grace Is Enough

Matt Maher

Great is Your faithfulness, O God;
 You wrestle with the sinner's restless heart.
 You lead us by still waters into mercy,
 And nothing can keep us apart.

Great is your love and justice, God of Jacob.
 You use the weak to lead the strong.
 You lead us in the song of Your salvation.
 And all Your people sing along.

GLORIAGlory to God (Mass of St. Ann)

Ed Bolduc

Glory! Glory to God in the highest.
 Glory! Glory to God in the highest,
 and on earth peace to people of good will.

We praise you, we bless you, we adore you, we glorify you,
 We give you thanks for your great glory,
 Lord God, heavenly King, O God, almighty Father.

Lord Jesus Christ, Only Begotten Son,
 Lord God, Lamb of God, Son of the Father,

You take away the sins of the world, have mercy on us;
 You take away the sins of the world, receive our prayer;
 You are seated at the right hand of the Father, have mercy on us.

For you alone are the Holy One, you alone are the Lord,
 You alone are the Most High, Jesus Christ,
 With the Holy Spirit, in the glory of God the Father.

Glory! Glory to God in the highest.
 Glory! Glory to God in the highest,
 and on earth peace to people of good will.
 Amen.

RESPONSORIAL PSALM

If Today You Hear God's Voice Jesse Manibusan, text adapt. Dominic MacAller

1. You turn all people back to dust, saying return, return O children of earth. For in your sight a thousand years are like a day, or as a watch in the night.
2. Teach us to number our days right, that we may gain true wisdom of the heart. Return, O Lord! How long? Have pity now. Have pity on your servants.
3. Fill us at daybreak with your kindness that we may shout for joy and gladness always. And may your gracious care be ours. Prosper our work. Prosper the work of our hands!

Aiming for Heaven First

I was very fortunate growing up. Although my parents did not have much money, we lacked for nothing nor did we as children know the difficulties they faced. We were loved, ate well, were well dressed and took vacations from time to time. Even so, my brothers and I always had that one toy we wanted more than anything else, something we could not live without.

My grandparents did not have it so easy. Sadly, they lost a child and their home to a fire in 1963 forcing them to move into very difficult living conditions. They lived a very modest life often settling for what was available to eat. They owned few possessions other than what had been given to them. They did have material desires, but these were far more needs than wants.

One summer, my brothers and I settled in with grandma and grandpa for a three-week visit. There I realized my grandparents had figured out the important things in life. The love they shared for everyone who entered their home was palpable. The appreciation they showed for what little they had was obvious. Vanity was a non-existent word. To this day, I cherish memories made during these weeks making toys from sticks and walking through ankle deep mud fields covered with cattails. My grandparents had taught us that hope and love went deeper than earthly things. Somehow, I suspect this is where I gained greater awareness of heaven through love on earth.

At times we miss the beauty of life by focusing on thoughts of wanting ... not only 'wanting' but 'needing,' that special something. The fact is that love shared and living simply can open the door to the joy of eternal life. Paul reminds us of this reality in his letter to the Colossians writing:

"Think of what is above, not of what is on earth.

For you have died, and your life is hidden with Christ in God."

In these words, Paul invites us to live life to the fullest by first seeking absolute fulfillment found in heaven where Christ has been raised and is now seated at the right hand of God.

By placing God at the center of everything, we begin to meet this invitation, but it does not come simply. As my parents and grandparents exemplified, we must develop our own recipe to put Him first. I suggest we begin with a suggestion written by C.S. Lewis in his book, Mere Christianity. He wrote, "Aim at heaven and you will get earth 'thrown in': aim at earth and you will get neither." How can you aim at heaven first? Figure that out and you're well on your way.

Endless Blessings,

Deacon Luc Papillon

Spark! at Home

When we think only about ourselves, we keep everything we have. When we think of others, we share what we have. In today's Gospel, Jesus invites us to share what we have with others. This week look for opportunities to share.

Three:Sixteen at Home

Our God wants us to be happy; it's OK to have good things. However, when we are busy accumulating things we can forget about others and only think of ourselves. When we become self-centered and selfish we can be guilty of the sin of Omission, which is failing to do what is right. We may say, "But I worked hard to earn what I have, my treasures," causing us to want more every time, and never be satisfied. This week in the Gospel, Jesus reminds us the rich man in the story does not seem like a bad man; however, he points out that this man's flaw was that he was thinking only about himself and his own comfort and security. Have you noticed that each time we go to Mass, we ask forgiveness for what we have done and for what we have failed to do? We call this prayer the Confuter. This week be aware of the opportunities to do the right thing and share the blessings in our life.

Safeguard the Children

Keep an Eye Out During Social Events at School and Church

Now that your children are getting ready to head back to school, it's a good time to refamiliarize yourself with the school or church property. Keep a lookout for any rooms or areas where supervision is low, and where a child could be taken without being noticed. You should also take note of any locked doors, areas under bleachers or in stairwells, or anywhere else suspicious. Child safety should be a priority for all events.

Faith Sharing

Reflection questions for every gathering around any table.

Luke 12:13-21 ~ Faith helps us set Godly priorities.

It is easy to get self-centered and greedy. What do you have in your life that is unnecessary? In your life, what keeps you close to God? What distracts you from your relationship with God?
