WHY is the great question of mission. Sometimes, we can forget the WHY of the Church. A clear sense of WHY, however, changes what we do as Church and how we do it. The WHY of the Church, in fact, is really a WHO: Jesus! Renewal in the life of the Church means starting again from our WHY. Come renew your sense of missionary discipleship.

Ordained from St. John's Seminary in 2015, Fr. Parker is the Director of Adult Faith Formation for the Archdiocese of Los Angeles.

VERSES

1. There's a wide - ness in God's mer - cy Like the wide - ness of the sea; There's a kind - ness in God's jus - tice, Which is more than lib - er - ty. There is plen - ti - ful re - demp - tion In the blood that has been shed; There is joy for all the mem - bers In the sor - rows of the Head. To Verse 2

2. There is welcome for the sinner,
And a promised grace made good;
There is mercy with the Savior;
There is healing in Christ's blood.
There is grace enough for thousands
Of new worlds as great as this;
There is room for fresh creations
In that upper home of bliss.
3. For the love of God is broader
Than the measure of the mind;
And the heart of the Eternal
Is most wonderfully kind.
If our love were but more simple,
We would know the living Word;
And our lives would be thanksgiving
In the kindness of the Lord.

4. There's a wideness in God's mercy
Like the wideness of the sea;
There's a kindness in God's justice,
Which is more than liberty.
There is plentiful redemption
In the blood that has been shed;
There is joy for all the members

REFRAIN

So be mer - ci - ful, just as our God is mer - ci - ful. Be mer - ci - ful, just as our God is mer - ci - ful to us. Let there be a wide - ness in our mer -
- cy. Let there be a kind - ness in our hearts.
Oh, may our lives be mer - ci - ful.

Guess Who's Coming to Dinner!

If anyone needs to hear and be reassured that they are loved by our good God, we hope that you were listening to today's readings. If you weren't really paying attention or if in the future you ever feel alone or unloved, these are great readings. In them we heard the fact that God is OUR CREATOR, that God has a never-ending love for us, we heard of God's mercy and gentleness with sinners, and of God's constant reaching out, searching for us, of God's desire for us to know that we are loved.

In the first reading we heard of God's love for ALL things that are and that God dislikes nothing that God made, that includes all of us! The unbelievable hugeness and all-inclusive love God has for all of us no matter where we are or what we have done are the themes of today's readings and our belief that the Scripture is God's very own Word should give us strength and courage to face what we have to, what we need to do, to live our lives as disciples of Jesus.

God always desires to be in a relationship with us; He created us, and He wants to be a part of all we do. Sue and I have been married for 52 years and we have held hands many times during those years, it feels right and good. But all those many years ago I can still recall the feelings of being scared as I reached for her hand for the first time, what if she pulled away, what if she didn't feel the same way I did. For many couples holding hands is their first experience of sharing intimacy, and it was for us. Before that first kiss, before even a hug, almost always comes that simple act of holding hands. In that grasp of hands lies the foundation of most relationships.

Now we go back and remember our readings today, the message that God reaches out and desires to be in relationship with us. From our first reading we heard proclaimed, "Oh Lord, lover of souls," lover of all of us. God desires this relationship but never demands it. Instead God comes slowly "courting" us, quietly making his presence known in our lives, reaching out to hold our hands, patiently waiting for us to respond. As we heard in the Gospel with Zacchaeus, when we turn our gaze toward God our life changes, our life of faith begins. When we accept God's offer of life and love, we are converted and transformed, our lives will never be the same again because our Creator and Lover is holding our hands.

Jesus came to Zacchaeus that day. Jesus comes to us today and salvation is always available to us as a reality that can enter our lives at any time if we only respond with a "yes" as we look back at that loving Jesus who is constantly looking at us. Did Zacchaeus even know that the power to make such a change in his life was in his heart? Do we? The power of Jesus' gaze at each of us has the power to transform us beyond our wildest imagination! Jesus asks if today he can dine at your home, knowing what that can mean in your life, what is your answer? Are we willing to take hold of Jesus' hand and begin that relationship?

Becoming Catholic

Dismissal of the Catechumens

Every Sunday at 9:00 am Mass, a group of children, teens, and adults are called forward to the presiding priest's chair after the homily. These are our catechumens, those preparing for Baptism at the Easter Vigil. They are sent forth from the church as the assembly sings, "May the word of God strengthen you ..." They follow the Book of the Gospels, held high by a catechist, to small meeting rooms (one for the adults, another for the children) to reflect more deeply on the readings they have just heard. They talk about the significance of the scriptures, especially the Gospel, in their own lives. It is an encounter with Jesus, and they are strengthening their resolve to live as his disciples. Please pray for our 14 catechumens as they journey toward the Sacraments. If you would like to know more about the process of becoming Catholic, please contact Catherine Shadduck at (805) 482-6417 x331 or catherine@padreserra.org

Luke 19:1-10 ~ Jesus' love transforms all people and all things!

Here we see Jesus' compassion, demonstrating his love of the sinner by eating with them, something that would have been seen by his detractors as very out-of-place for a rabbi such as Jesus. But as usual, he persists and teaches a valuable lesson: take in the outcast and sinner first, and they will later be healed.

Jesus saw Zaccheaus as he was – mistakes and all. What masks, if any, do you hide behind, so others won't see who you really are? Who do you trust to see your true self? How can Jesus' love transform you?

Safeguard the Children

Build Active Listening Skills With Your Child

Building active listening skills with the children in your life can clue you into any suspicious or potentially dangerous relationships in their lives. Active listening lets them know that you have heard, understood, and valued what they said. Often, children don't feel this way, but with a few easy tactics, you can change that, building a relationship of trust and respect. As an active listener, be sure to make eye contact while the child is speaking. Ask follow-up questions and check-in to make sure you both understand what's being said. Avoid "yes or no" questions and instead, ask open-ended questions that will keep the conversation going. Welcome to Our Newest Altar Servers

On Sunday, October 27, at our 9:00 am liturgy, 17 altar servers were installed, bringing the number of our grade school and high school altar servers to 103. With over 50% high school students, it is one of the largest parish altar server ministries in the archdiocese. We pause today to express our gratitude to our altar servers, their parents, and their families. Each week parents adjust their schedules and provide transportation to ensure that our altar servers enhance our liturgies; as a community, we express our heartfelt gratitude to them. Likewise, we express sincere gratitude to our altar server leadership team: Terri Alleruzzo, Raelynne Lorenz, Bryan Lorenz, Frank Bifulco, Michelle Hatch, Christopher Nichols, Kathy Quantock, Clare Sadnik, Terry Tong and Bob Shadduck. Congratulations, and thank you to all our altar servers, especially the 17 recently installed servers:
