RESPONSORIAL PSALM

Psalm 118: Give Thanks to the Lord

Timothy R. Smith

Give thanks to the Lord for he is good,
his love is ev - er - last - ing.

1. Let the house of Israel say,
"His mercy endures forever."
Let the house of Aaron say,
"His mercy endures forever."
Let all those who fear the Lord say,
"His mercy endured forever."
2. I was hard pressed and falling,
but the Lord helped me.
My strength and my courage is the Lord,
and he has been my Savior.
The joyful shout of victory in the houses of the just.
3. The stone which the builders rejected has become the cornerstone.
By the Lord has this been done;
it is wonderful, it is wonderful in our eyes.
This day the Lord has made;
let us be glad and rejoice in it.

Is This for Real?

Dear friends on the journey,

Here we are on day 31 and 5th Sunday of quarantine. What we're living right now seems like a movie doesn't it? For our family, comedy might be the best description and I suspect there's not too many living a romance. I've heard several people compare their experience to a science fiction film and even Groundhog Day. Perhaps for others it might parallel horror, suspense, adventure, crime, drama, fantasy, mystery or satire. No matter the movie genre, this pandemic and our stay-at-home response is something surreal, unbelievable and unprecedented. We're all wondering if this is for real. Everyone is locked in their homes in comfy clothes, only going out for groceries. Masks and gloves are wardrobe musts. Essentials are the basics for survival. School and graduations canceled. Telecommuting to work. And our liturgy is now on YouTube! It's certainly an emotional roller coaster with ups and downs, fears and joys, calm and frenzy, tears and laughter, and everything in between. We are living moment to moment, not knowing what will happen next.

Today's gospel story about Jesus' post resurrection appearance to the disciples in the locked room is also a roller coaster of emotions from fear and worry to doubt. They are filled with disbelief and uncertainty, likely wondering if the recent events were real and what was going to happen without their teacher. Then Jesus appears to them and they rejoice, three times he offers peace, gives the Holy Spirit to them, and sends them out to be believers and to forgive. Then Jesus challenges their belief. Does it come only from their seeing Jesus in person?

This gospel's message is for us as well. Now more than ever, we need Jesus' peace. We need belief and the Holy Spirit to get us through this time. Only Jesus can give us this peace and he offers it every day. It's our response that will make a difference, especially when we have no certainty of the immediate future. I have found much hope, comfort and peace in this time of quarantine and see the Holy Spirit at work. Here is where social media has shined for me. Seeing stories of courage, charity given, appreciation, gratitude, humanity at its best. I am beyond proud of our parish for acting so quickly to live stream Mass, to be willing to shop for seniors, to make wellness calls, to donate food, to give generously so the parish can stay afloat.

So today I encourage all of us to rely on our faith that Jesus has us. Rest in his peace that with him and through him, we will come out on the other side stronger and better. Lean on the belief that the Holy Spirit is working and look for even her small, simple movements in our lockdown. Celebrate them. Take comfort that the disciples who were locked in that room in fear and disbelief eventually came out stronger and better and with greater conviction.

I wonder sometimes if all the goodness is real. And Jesus says yes.

Until we see one another in person ... Siempre Adelante,

Growing in Faith at Home

Our Catholic tradition is filled with many tools and resources to articulate and unpack the many aspects of our faith. We have posted a few online recommendations for you to access while at home in order to learn and grow in understand and faith. Visit www.padreserra.org/growing

Sharing Faith at Home

Every week we provide a faith-sharing question based on the Sunday gospel so that, after hearing scripture proclaimed at Mass, you and your family can engage in a conversation at home around the table. This quarantine is a good time with everyone at home to begin this weekly practice. We encourage you to break open the Word again by reading the gospel, listening for a word or line that jumps out at you then look into your own life by using the question provided, or another of your choosing, to spark a conversation of faith. The question can be found here in the bulletin under Faith Sharing and on our home page at www.padreserra.org

Safeguard the Children

The Archdiocese Continues Helping Survivors of Sexual Abuse and Their Families

During National Child Abuse Prevention Month, and on behalf of Archbishop José H. Gomez, we affirm our continued commitment to reporting allegations of sexual misconduct to law enforcement, support victim-survivors in their healing journey, and protect children and the vulnerable. The Archdiocese has created a new website, LACatholics, to serve as a comprehensive resource containing resources, programs, and services for protecting children and reporting abuse. If you, or someone you know, is a victim of sexual misconduct by someone affiliated with our Church, please contact law enforcement and Archdiocesan Victims Assistance Coordinator at (213) 637-7650 or for help and support, visit lacatholics.org/reporting-child-abuse

Faith Sharing

Reflection questions for every gathering around any table.

John 20:19-31 ~ Peace be with you, he said.

In today's gospel, we see Thomas' struggle to believe in the Resurrection. He does so only after encountering Jesus for himself. Jesus says, "Blessed are those who have not seen and have believed." This passage challenges all of us Christians to believe without seeing. What are the events or experiences in your life, or in this time of quarantine, that have brought you to believe?
