

Pastoral Team

Fr. Patrick Mullen – Pastor

Teresa Runyon – Pastoral Associate

Tere Delgado – Faith Formation Minister

Dominic MacAller – Liturgy & Music Minister

Brett Becker – Youth & Young Adult Minister

Gabriela Rivera – Communications & Technology

OUR 2023 PROMISE

- We will welcome you regardless of your situation in life, whether you are single, married, divorced or widowed, whatever the state of your marriage, including those in a mixed faith marriage, and those sharing a home without marriage. We will welcome you whether you are conservative or liberal, old or young, rich or poor, gay, lesbian, transgender, non-binary, or straight. You belong here whatever your race, color and cultural background, immigrant or native born, whether you are fully or differently abled, healthy or sick. We will welcome you whether you are struggling with your faith or firm in your commitment. We will maintain an open door and an open heart to you and offer you a place to share in the life of the parish and grow in relationship with Jesus Christ.
- We will “keep holy the Sabbath” by making well-prepared weekend Masses the single most important focal point of parish life. We will not conduct any non-ministry meetings on Sundays.
- We commit ourselves to providing all vulnerable people, especially children, a safe, affectionate environment with well-trained and vetted teachers and volunteers.
- We will offer meaningful faith formation and retreat opportunities for everyone. We will also provide quality speakers and comfortable meeting places to help you encounter Jesus.
- We are your ministers and companions. If you call us for help, with a question, or to ask for prayer, we will do everything possible to provide spiritual and practical help for you.
- We will provide opportunities for you to meet with social and spiritual groups.
- We will help you find ways to serve the poor and suffering and coach you to help people in need.
- When you give money to God for the support of the parish, we promise to be good and transparent stewards of the resources entrusted to us and responsibly care for the people, ministries, staff, facilities and our church, where we gather to celebrate and to mourn at the sacred milestones of our lives.

We enter this covenant in good faith with the help of the Holy Spirit.

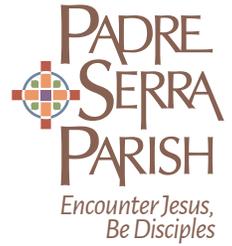

Pastor, representing the entire Pastoral Team – January 1, 2023

Household or Personal Name _____

Adults _____

Children _____

OUR 2023 PROMISE

Please read prayerfully and mark the promises you will commit to this year.

- Sabbath
I will love God, by attending Mass in person and receiving the Sacrament of Reconciliation once a season (winter, spring, summer and fall).
- Gratitude
In our world where the news is sometimes hard and wearying, I will look for the positive, thank God for it, and share it with others.
- Examine
I will review my day and recognize those moments when God was most present.
- Prayer
Since I am a beloved child of God, I will try to “pray always” bringing my needs, fears, hopes, pain, joys and thanks to God, anytime, anywhere.
- Jesus
I will invite Jesus into all facets of my life, maybe one I have not considered before, and trust all to Him.
- Discipleship
I will study the Gospels, daily or weekly, to know Jesus intimately, to embrace his spirit and teachings and to live them each day.
- Evangelization
Having been nourished by Jesus in the Word and Eucharist I will nourish others in friendship and service, companionship and availability.
- Love Neighbor
I will take responsibility for my words and actions, making a conscious effort to be kind and respectful to everyone, especially those that I think are wrong.
- Charity
Over the course of the next year, I will choose a local and international mission to support with my time, talent, and treasure.
- Stewardship
As a member of the body of Christ and the parish, I will consciously step into an attitude of responsibility, participation, and giving. My plan is to give $_____ every week / every month / this year.

I will review this each Sunday to recommit and challenge myself.

Signature and date

Note: This is a confidential document which will be kept securely and shredded in December 2023.