Psalm 118: This Is the Day

This is the day! This is the day! This is the day that the Lord has made! Let us re-joyce! Let us re-joyce! Let us re-joyce and be glad! Let us re-joyce and be glad!

This is the day that the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad.

Give thanks to the Lord! Our God is good whose love endures forever. Let all the children of Israel say: God's love endures forever.

The right hand of God has struck with power. The right hand of God is exalted. I shall not die, but I shall live and proclaim the works of the Lord.

The stone which the builder rejected has become the foundation of our house. By the Lord has this been done. How wonderful to behold!

Invitation to Communion

Lord, I am not worthy that you should enter un-der my roof, but only say the word and my soul shall be healed.

Saint and sinner welcome in to this meal of harmony.
 Lonely people, next of kin journey toward the glory tree.
 Gathered strangers, scattered sheep, at this table all are fed.
 Blood and body bonds run deep as your kingdom feast is spread.

May we see the Christ revealed in the breaking of the bread.
 Living stories, holy meals, we become what we are fed.
 Broken shattered, fragile life, now received by you and me.
 Eating, drinking, joy and strife, Gospel living sets us free.

See the Christ in saddened sighs, blood poured out in every land.
 Wounded people, wailing cries lie upon our outstretched hands.
 Jesus is the way through death; truth beyond the present rage.
 Life unfolding, healing breath now enfleshed in youth and age.

Bless us, Lord, and these your gifts, fruit of vine and human hands.
 With our hearts and minds we lift all the goodness of these lands.
 Praise and thanks we shout and sing, from your bounty we are blessed.
 Joyfully all gifts we bring to receive our Lord and guest.

Death and life in water meet, drenching us in floods of light.
 Marking us with oil so sweet, clothing us in glorious white.
 Priest and prophet, spirit led, we are God's new living sign.
 Feeding on this holy bread, drinking of this holy wine.

Witnessing to love and peace, hands of blessing we remain.
 Helping fear and hate to cease, we bring forth God's wondrous reign.
 Strength and power here we find, given in this kingdom feast.
 We go forth to heal and sign everyone, both great and least.

REFRAIN

I have seen the Lord, I have heard his voice, and I know he lives, and I know he lives.
Death, where is your sting? Fear, where is your grip?
Hearts now free to love; lives now free to give.

Those who speak the truth
may be bound in chains,
but there is no chaining the Word of God.

If we die with Christ, we shall rise with him;
if we share his passion,
we shall reign with him.

No greater love can there be than this;
to spend one's life to give life.

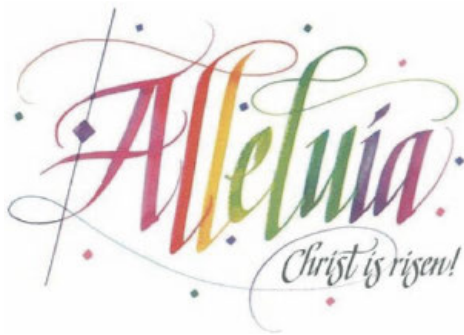

In our fragile flesh, the dying of the Lord;
in our faithful living, his life revealed.

Text: 87 87 D; Henry van Dyke, 1852–1933, alt.

Music: Ludwig van Beethoven, 1770–1827; adapted by Edward Hodges, 1796–1867.

He is risen! Alleluia!

For the women in today's Gospel, nothing is as they anticipated. They expected to need help opening the tomb, but found it open. They expected to find Jesus' body, but it was gone. They expected to be alone, as they gave their final loving care to their Lord, but found a man dressed in white. They thought the story of Jesus had come to an end, but heard that, not only was Jesus raised, they would see him again in Galilee. They thought their mission was the preparation of a dead body, but were given the responsibility for spreading the good news of the resurrection to the disciples and Peter.

It's a lot to take in!

Did the women believe the young man's report? The story doesn't say, so we can only guess. We only know what they did. The last sentence of the Gospel, just one verse later explains, "They said nothing to anyone, for they were afraid." This, according to the scholars, was the original ending of Mark's Gospel, the remaining verses having been added later.

It's a genuinely startling way to end a Gospel, with the greatest news ever, that Jesus had been raised from the dead, followed by the women's fear and silence. I would like to suggest that the author did this to make us process our own reaction to the resurrection. If you're puzzled, and maybe even uncomfortable with the way the women responded, saying nothing, how do you feel about your own reaction to the resurrection? Are you amazed? Do you doubt?

If you doubt the universal witness of all four Gospels to the resurrection, what do you believe? That God and Jesus couldn't do this? — that's not likely. Or that God wouldn't do this, perhaps because it hasn't been done for any other figure in human history? God broke a lot of steady patterns, though, in the life and ministry of Jesus.

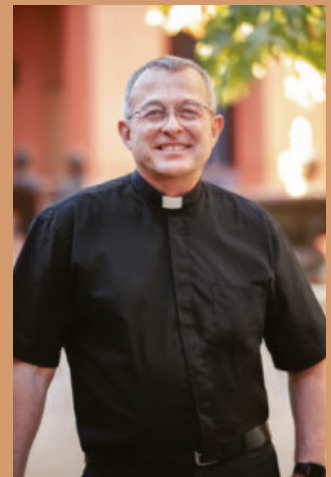

If you believe, are you dedicating yourself to the Risen Lord, or to other pursuits? Are you proclaiming this extraordinary news to a world that needs the Good News of Jesus' triumph over darkness, over oppressive high priests, over tombs and death itself? Or, are you, silent, too?

Mark's author seems to hope we'll ponder these questions, be disturbed by the women's silence, and act. So ... what shall you do?

I hope that your Lent was terrific, your holy week genuinely blessed, and that Easter can build on that foundation with miracles!

He is risen! Alleluia,

Fr. Patrick
Pastor

Love to Pray

First Friday Adoration

2:00 - 7:00 pm

Blessed Sacrament Chapel

Reach for deep intimacy and a greater connection with Jesus. During your time in adoration, you can pray, be silent, or engage in spiritual reading.

This devotional prayer practice allows us to praise and adore Jesus and also for our gracious Lord to reach out and adore us. Come spend 10, 20, and 30 minutes for quiet prayer before our Lord Jesus.

To commit to one hour, contact teresa@padreserra.org www.padreserra.org/adoration
