GATHERING

Our God Is Here

Chris Muglia

Here in this time, here in this place, here we are standing face to face.
Here in our hearts, here in our lives, our God is here.
Here for the broken, here for the strong, here in this temple we belong.
Here in our hearts, here in our lives, our God is here.

Refrain

And we cry: "Ho - ly! Ho - ly! Ho - ly are you!" We cry: "Ho - ly! Ho - ly! Ho - ly and true!" A - men, we do be-lieve our God is here.
(Repeat last time) 2
Our God is here.

Here in the Word, God is revealed, here where the wounded can be healed.
Here in our hearts, here in our lives, our God is here.
Here we become what we receive, here in this Eucharistic feast.
We are his body living as one; our God is here.

5:00—God of Wonders

Marc Byrd & Steve Hindalong

Lord of all creation, of water, earth and sky
The heavens are Your tabernacle; glory to the Lord on high

God of wonders beyond our galaxy
You are holy, holy
The universe declares Your majesty
You are holy, holy
Lord of heaven and earth;
Lord of heaven and earth

Early in the morning, I will celebrate the light
And as I stumble in the darkness, I will call Your name by night

God of wonders beyond our galaxy...

Hallelujah! to the Lord of heaven and earth.

Remembering Who We Are ... Considering What Will Be ...

Inevitably, when celebrating anniversaries, we end up looking both backward and forward. We bring out pictures to remember how we once looked. We count up the years and ponder just how many years we might have left. It can be a useful kind of reflection.

So, looking back, I can remember, as a student at the seminary, back in the '70s before Padre Serra was established, that there were orange groves, unprofitable Valencia trees, growing where the parish now stands. There was a fire pit in the middle of Upland Road across from the southeasternmost corner of the parish. Between that fire pit and Santa Rosa was farmland and undeveloped hillside where the coyotes would howl. No one, at that time, could have guessed how much Camarillo would grow, and what would happen to that land.

Padre Serra Parish started humbly, guests of the seminary, operating offices out of Fr. Liam's home, where I now live, and then in office buildings in town. We should never forget that we existed without a building, without a campus. We always need to remind ourselves that Padre Serra Parish is not a place ... we're a people. Our buildings are noteworthy, but we are much more than the buildings.

The first parishioners were brave souls who left behind the comforts of an established parish. They were also generous, building, in time, an extraordinarily large and beautiful church far larger than their own initial needs, preparing for those that would follow after. When the last building of the parish is built, whenever that will be, we'll need to hang onto that forward-thinking generosity, bravely and generously considering what those who have yet to come may need.

The first leaders of the parish, when they were considering what things might look like, broke all the rules. There would be no altar rail, and the tabernacle would be in its own chapel; the altar would be in the center, not the end; people would sit facing each other around the table of the Lord; the church doors would open onto a plaza, and not the street; all the ministers, including the priest, deacon and altar servers, would sit together with the assembly, clearly the one Body of Christ. All the rules that were broken achieved a greater good. If we could maintain that creativity, that early flexibility, that unwillingness to settle for the ways that things have always been done, who knows what we might think up next?

After the first wave of construction, came a second: the Serra Center was constructed to meet extraordinary needs: large meals, faith formation, entertainment and worship. I haven't been to every parish, but I've been to many, and the Serra Center is special. The dreamers and the supporters didn't settle when they planned this building. When we consider what we will do in the future, be it a building, a program, a ministry, a way of worshipping, a manner of serving, I hope we don't ever start settling. Let's keep dreaming big dreams, beautiful dreams, inspiring hope, and initiating new ways to care, so that peoples yet unknown might come to encounter Jesus, and be his disciples.

Happy Anniversary, my fellow parishioners of Padre Serra and disciples of the Lord.

Siempre adelante,

Fr. Patrick

Little Church Summer Schedule ~ July 30

Sunday preschool and kindergarten during the 11:00am mass. Great activities, prayers, friends, songs and fun. Info: Elaine edenham1@aol.com. All friends three and up are welcome!

Spark! at Home ~ This Sunday's Gospel we are reminded to be good and welcoming to others; treat people as if it was Jesus coming to our door. How would you receive Jesus in your home?

Three:Sixteen ~ Middle school ministry at home: This week we are asked to take up our crosses and follow Jesus. Have you had to make a hard choice because you knew it was the right thing to do? All our sacrifices we do for our love of Jesus will be rewarded in heaven. Share with your family some of these choices and rewards.

Faith Sharing

Reflection questions for every gathering around any table.

The cost of discipleship: Jesus asks his disciples to take up their cross and follow him.

Listening to the Word: Mt 10:37-42

As you listen to this Scripture story today, what is one word or thought that really struck you?

Looking into My Life

The world tells me I should be concerned about myself, be number one. How do I reconcile this with the gospel command to lose my life for Jesus' sake? How do I follow Jesus' command to take up my cross?
